

THE BEATLES - POST 1970 CANADIAN ALBUM RELEASES

Developed by Serge Pelletier with help from Piers Hemmingsen and Fred Young

Apple SW 6386 The Beatles Let It Be

Early copies are RCA-pressed and label states «1970, Apple Records». Early covers have the Modern Graphics printers logo on the spine. The cover differs somewhat from the 6351 version in that it lists the full songwriter and publisher information for each track on the back sleeve and it also has «ORIGINALLY RELEASED AS SOAL-6351» at the bottom right hand corner. EMI Music Canada lists original release date as 1972 November 1. This is the Last Beatles LP on the 6000 series.

Polydor 2371.051 The Beatles Feat. Tony Sheridan In The Beginning (circa 1960)

Help!

EMI Canada, this is a special «error» pressing unique to Canada. The pressing plant mistakenly used the original 1965 UK LP mixes for this early CD pressing of the UK album. George Martin did not like the original mixes and remixed Help and Rubber Soul specifically for the new CD stereo releases in 1987. All CD releases around the world had these new mixes, except Canada.

This pressing, known as the «Disque Americ» version (the name of the plant who pressed it) has become quite sought after through the years as it was the only CD versions of these mixes, until the 2009 mono remasters box set which featured the original mixes «for the first time» (officially).

Those «special» CDs were manufactured by Disque Americ in Drummondville, Québec, Canada and that credit appears on the CD inner ring. (Made by / Fabriqué Par Disque Americ Canada). It's been reported that the Rubber Soul and Help! CDs pressed by Cinram in Scarborough, Ontario, Canada (the year is unknown) also contain the original UK mixes (CINRAM version pictured below). One way to recognize the original mix is the absence of echo on the vocals from «Dizzy Miss Lizzie»; the 1987 remix has a lot of it.

Rubber Soul

EMI Canada, this is a special «error» pressing unique to Canada. The pressing plant mistakenly used the original 1965 UK LP mixes for this early CD pressing of the UK album. Program length is 36:01 - containing an extra 13 seconds over the standard issue (all other releases of Rubber Soul have a program length of 35:48). Indicators of the UK mix are the hard-right lead vocal on «Drive My Car», and the «pop» at around 1:07 on «Run For Your Life».

BBX 1 The Beatles Wooden Box Set

In The Late 80s, EMI issued this CD and Cassette Box Set including all the UK albums plus Past Masters - making for the first time a box of EVERYTHING the Beatles had issued. The wooden Box contained Canadian pressings, a booklet and a white instruction sheet for the box.

CDP 7 90043-4 The Beatles Past Masters (1 and 2)

LPs were imported from the USA, but CDs and cassettes were made in Canada

9080328 The Beatles Imagine John Lennon

A Lennon Compilation featuring lennon's «best» Beatles songs. LPs were imported from the USA, but CDs and cassettes were made in Canada

A 22131 The Beatles The Beatles Live Rockin' At The Star Club

1991, Sony. Sold only as cassettes and CDs, this set was removed from the shelves as the rights to the recordings were not settled. Some consider it a bootleg... It was also issued in the USA as a two volume set with covers in red and black.

P2 23701 The Beatles The Early Tapes of The Beatles

Polydor, this CD was widely available in Canada in the 90s.

724383179626 The Beatles Live at The BBC

1994. LPs were imported from the UK, but double jeweled case CDs and cassettes were made in Canada. The first Canadian pressing included a coupon for Beatles merchandise orders. Folded digipack promos were sent to radio stations but were imported from the USA.

724383444526 The Beatles Anthology 1

November 21, 1995, LPs were imported from the UK, but CDs and cassettes were made in Canada. Elaborate promo CDs were sent to radio stations but those promos were imported from the USA. In some parts of the country, stores (like Canadian Tire) started selling the albums the day before the official release (illegally) so, many stores panicked and started rush releasing the albums as well. Copies are confirmed to have been sold the night before from local stores in Quebec City.

724383444823 The Beatles Anthology 2

1996, LPs were imported from the UK, but CDs and cassettes were made in Canada. Promo CDs were sent to radio stations but those promos were imported from the USA. Another special vinyl promo was sent to college radio stations, but this too was imported from the USA. This Sampler offered slightly different edits of the featured songs.

724383445127 The Beatles Anthology 3

1997, LPs were imported from the UK, but CDs and cassettes were made in Canada. Promo CDs were sent to radio stations but those promos were imported from the USA

A cardboard slip case for all 3 Anthologies was available in stores for free for a short while when the last chapter was issued.

724352932528 The Beatles 1

LPs were imported from the UK, but CDs were made in Canada

724352148127 The Beatles Yellow Submarine Songtrack

LPs were imported from the UK, but CDs and cassettes were made in Canada. original LPs were on bright yellow vinyl, but some rarer copies were on plain black vinyl. Promo CDs were sent to radio stations but those promos were imported from the USA

The Remasters Box Set

On 09 09 2009, EMI reissued the Beatles catalogue completely remastered as single albums but also as a stereo box set. The albums inside were made in Canada. The Mono box set on the other hand was imported from Japan (see the «Imported Releases» page).

The Remasters Box Set (digital Download)

In the wake of this new digital era, just like CDs were the new music format in the late 80s, digital download is also now the new format. Although difficult for some to consider it as a true format (not being a physical format) the music is nevertheless being sold and promoted more and more this way, to reach younger fans and to follow the exponential evolution of technology. Because of all this, it is important to underline the Beatles recent availability on itunes, as they offer the catalogue off their website, but also because a special (physical) 149$ Beatles package is being manufactured and sold in canadian Apple stores; thus making it an actual Canadian release!

This nice cardboard fold-out includes a download card, giving an exclusive access to a digital download of the whole stereo remastered box set; including the mini documentaries found in the CD box set.

UNAUTHORISED CANADIAN PRESSINGS PRESSED BY EMPLOYEE AFTER WORKING HOURS

SMAS 11638 The Beatles The Beatles Live At The Hollywood Bowl

This Canadian grey splash pressing is an authorized pressing made by employees, possibly to test colored vinyl mixes. It is unknown if other copies were tested in the same way.

SEAV 11840 The Beatles Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band

Most likely from 1978, this blue splash vinyl resembles the commercial purple splash copy. It is unknown if other copies were tested in the same way. Here, only one record was pressed

SEBX 11843 The Beatles 1967-1970

«Blue burst» vinyl. Most likely from 1978. It is unknown if other copies were tested in the same way. Here, only one record was pressed; Curiously, labels don't match the record tracks: Side 1 - Beatles Revolver Side A (ST-2576) Side 2 - Plastic Ono Band Side B (SW-3372) on blue vinyl; both sides have '67-'70 labels

SEBX 11843 The Beatles 1967-1970

Most likely from 1978. It is unknown if other copies were tested in the same way. Here, only one record was pressed on blue vinyl. Second LP is black.

SEBX 11844 The Beatles Love Songs

Experimental gold with red and black streaks starting from the center. Most likely from 1978. It is unknown if other copies were tested in the same way. Here, only one record was pressed in color; The second LP is on black vinyl.
